FachPack 2010

Trade Fair for Packaging Solutions

Together with

PrintPack 2010

LogIntern 2010

NÜRNBERG / MESSE

Why FachPack is interesting for you
– the successful results in 2009:

- 1,338 exhibitors
- 10 exhibition halls
- 97 % of the visitors were satisfied with the information and contact opportunities on the stands

The package is your visiting card!

The package is the first thing the customer holds in his hands – before the actual product. This is exactly why FachPack is Europe's get-together when it comes to innovative packaging. Here you find efficient, cost-effective solutions to make sure your product appeals. Protection, weight and design have long ceased to be the only features that count. At times of climate change and shortage of resources, the sustainability issue is also becoming more and more important. By using modern technologies, you save energy and material – and create a positive sustainability footprint you can use effectively for promotion. FachPack with its two exhibition segments, PrintPack for packaging processing and LogIntern for packaging logistics, is the ideal event for making contacts and finding the right solutions for your company.

We look forward to seeing you!

Award-winning: German Packaging Award, hall 6

Be there when the German Packaging Institute (dvi) presents its award for the 32nd time! Manufacturers and designers show their skills and present creations for packaging materials, packaging supplies, displays, single packages and multiple packages.

Pioneering: special show on "Sustainable Production and Packaging", hall 4

Find out how to put sustainability into practice in your company. More than 30 exhibitors show their new products for facing the challenges of climate change and scarcer resources. Do the environment and your company a favour – and update on sustainable management.

A look back: German Packaging Museum, hall 6

Find out how it all began: The German Packaging Museum's special show takes you on a journey back in time through international packaging history. An interesting exhibition is in store for you – with exhibits from cultural history, everyday life and art history.

Trend-setters: Corrugated Cardboard Forum, CCN Ost

Experts from the Corrugated Cardboard Industry Association (VDW) discuss "Eco-efficiency: The Corrugated Cardboard Principle", with presenter Michael Opoczynski from the German TV programme ZDF – in St. Petersburg room, CCN Ost from 11 a.m. – 1 p.m. on Wednesday, 29.9.2010.

Visionary: presentation of packaging lines

FachPack shows you two examples of what today's innovative packaging lines look like. At the "Application Park" in hall 4, you can see how Playmobil toy figures find their way into the package.

The fully automatic, modular "Robotic Pack Line" in hall 3 shows you the route taken by a marzipan potato on its way to the pallet ready for shipment. Experience live how the group of top technology partners presents the synthesis of robotics and automation.

Test area: Light & Safe Initiative, hall 7

The test laboratory installed at FachPack by the Light & Safe Initiative of the German Association for Plastic Packaging and Films (IK) focuses on packaging quality. Bring your own packages for testing – with instant feedback on quality! Exciting drop tests and test procedures for films and packaging are also on the agenda.

The latest information on the many special shows and forums at the exhibition trio is available on the Internet at

Design you can see and feel – the PrintPack segment

An attractive package makes “sense”, because a visually appealing product catches the customer’s eye immediately and a pleasing haptic makes him want to unpack it – basic requirements for a product to be popular. High-quality processing and innovative packaging design are therefore in great demand and signal the noticeable upward trend. Be inspired by the innovations in the PrintPack segment and find new ideas for attractive packages.

Products on display: well-packed expertise

- Pre-press and packaging design
- Package and label printing
- Processing
- Packaging supplies production/print processing
- Services for package printing and packaging supplies production

For cleverer processes – the LogIntern segment

Intralogistics is closely linked with packaging and is enormously important for the complete packaging chain. Discover everything about today's innovations and tomorrow's trends – more knowledge gives you a decisive lead. The LogIntern segment shows a broad spectrum of possibilities for optimizing packaging logistics processes or preparing for coming investment decisions. Find out how to cut delivery times and use potential savings effectively.

Products on display: concentrated intralogistics

- Conveying systems
- Storage and order-picking systems
- Loading systems
- Ancillary loading, transport and storage equipment
- Material flow control systems and software
- Identification, coding and product security systems
- Services for in-plant logistics
